Report in brief:

The Department of Geography offered Second-year bachelor's degree students in geography a 10-day remedial instruction program during the 2024-2025 academic year. The fifth-semester geography students who failed the course sought to improve their knowledge of key geography concepts. Important examination-related issues were discussed throughout the program. The program is set to take place between February 15 and February 25, 2025. Was very favourable throughout the course, demonstrating enhanced comprehension of geography. The majority of participants passed the exam for the semester. The commitment and assistance of the teachers, teaching assistants, and administrative staff helped the program to succeed.
